Speaker 1: Peter, USA

This is my last year at school and it feels a bit odd. I'm ready to leave, but I'll miss my girlfriend. I definitely expect to have a good time at university. I think I'll be happy wherever I go. It's college – there'll be people there and they'll be cool. I'm not worried about growing up and becoming an adult. It's cool.

Speaker 2: Maria, Kenya

I think the most important thing is to get a career. Lots of people end up getting badly paid jobs. I don't want to be one of them. So I'm going to try to get a job this year and save up enough money to get to university next year.

Speaker 3: James, Wales

Becoming a doctor is the only thing I've ever really considered doing in my life. So I intend to study medicine at university. I like the idea of helping and meeting different people. I'll probably get married and be a father one day, but it will happen when it happens.

Speaker 4: Sophie, France

Right now, I'm training to be a contemporary dancer and my ambitions are to get into a well-known company and to live in New York. I'm going to go there as soon as I complete my studies. I want to succeed at all levels – my work, my professional and my emotional life.

Student:

Someone you don't know very well is calling you asking if he / she can stay at your house. He / she could be a liar or even a thief! You cannot let him / her enter your house – especially at night... Be polite and explain to him / her that you can't help him / her as your house isn't big enough, your wife / husband wouldn't agree, and what's more – you have three little kids!

Teacher:

It's 11 p.m. and you have just lost your house keys. Phone a very good friend to ask if you can stay at his / her place. He / she's got a very big house with many bedrooms. Moreover, he / she lives alone. Explain your situation to him / her. He / she is your last chance!

You start.
