ROLEPLAY

TEACHER

Your child was invited to a friend's party this Saturday afternoon but your parents are coming to spend the weekend with your family. They do not come very often and are very excited to be able to spend time with their only grandchild. You've also planned some activities for the whole family! It's going to be a GREAT weekend!

You start: I've got some great news!

STUDENT

You've been invited to a party at your best friend's house this Saturday afternoon. You love your family but you're really excited about the party! You can't wait! You haven't told your parents yet, but you probably should.

Your mum/dad wants to tell you what they have planned for this weekend. What will you do if it messes up your plans?!

Ben: A recent report says that when school finishes in the summer, 70% of kids have nothing to do until they start back again in September. We sent Jake out to find out what some of London's teenagers will be doing this summer. Where are you Jake?

Jake: I'm in a pavement cafe in Clapham in south London. There are lots teens here on their way home from school, enjoying the early summer sunshine. Let's start with Asher.

Asher: As soon as we break up, I'm going to Cornwall for my uncle's wedding. I'm looking forward to that, and my mum and I are going to stay there for a few days and have a look around. After that, I hope I can find a job to earn some money.

Jake: Thanks Asher. Can I ask you, Phil, what are your plans?

Phil: Not much, really. I'll hang around with my mates. We go up to Queensway ice skating sometimes.

Jake: Do you think more clubs and activities should be available?

Phil: I don't think I'd really go.

Jake: Dan, what about you?

Dan: I'm in a steel band and we are planning at the Nothing Hill Carnival this summer. So I'm doing lots of band practices.

Jake: And how's Charlotte, who's just 15?

Charlotte: Most girls around where I live won't do much this summer - they worry about what they're wearing and wanting to be popular. I like looking nice, too, but I hate being bored. So I'm in the Army Cadet Force, and I'm going to camp in Scotland for two weeks and then to the Netherlands for a week.

Jake: Will you join the Army when you leave school?

Charlotte: I don't think so. My mum doesn't want me to.

Jake: Thanks to all of you and let's hope we have sunshine instead of rain this summer. Back to the studio.

Ben: Thanks, Jake. You're right. Last summer was the wettest for over 200 years. We don't want another one of those.
