LISTENING TAPESCRIPT (Please read twice.)

Speaker A:

I don't really know what I want to do when I leave school. I think I'll probably take a year off, maybe go abroad and find a job. I speak a bit of Spanish, so I could go to Spain. I like the sound of the Canary Islands! Lots of sunshine all year. And then after that? Well, I suppose I'll start looking for a proper job. My uncle's got two shops in town, and I could help him there. And when I get enough money, I'm going to buy a car!

Speaker B:

When I finish my degree, the first thing I'm going to do is find a Mediterranean beach and do nothing for two weeks. After that I'm going to travel around Mexico for a month. I've got a friend who works there, and I've always wanted to visit that part of the world. Then it'll be time to start work. I've had five interviews in the last four months, and one of them offered me a job, so I may start with them and see what happens. That'll be in September.

Speaker C:

Summer holidays? I haven't thought about them, really. Haven't had much time. We are a bit tired of the beach, so we'll probably go for something different this year. Maybe a touring holiday with a caravan. You know, go and see France properly. Or maybe we'll rent one of those mountain chalets in Switzerland and enjoy the fresh air. But I mean, we're definitely going abroad. The weather's always better!

Speaker D:

The Christmas holidays? Well, we can't really go abroad, because there is not enough time. The children are still at school till the week before Christmas. We usually go to my parents' house on Christmas day, and for New Years' Day we go to my husband's parents. I imagine we'll probably do the same this year – it'll be good to spend some time with them. One thing we're not going to do is leave all the shopping till the last minute. I've done most of the shopping already and we're going out on Friday for the final few presents.

Teacher – Teacher 1

Luckily, your school has been given some extra money to be spent on students' trip abroad to an English speaking country. To choose the students seems quite easy for you as you suggest that those with the best marks must be definitely the ones to go.

Student –Teacher 2

Luckily, your school has been given some extra money to be spent on a students' trip abroad to an English speaking country. You have been a teacher for quite a long time and choosing the "right" students to go is not easy for you. You do consider students' marks to be an important criterion but not definitely the critical one. You think of those whose families face financial difficulties, those who are not the best students but very active ones, helpful and successful team builders.
